

TLDG Online extends West Point's military leadership lessons and TLDG's proven learning process to a virtual setting that complements our onsite programs. Through this online experience, you gain exposure to our same impressive faculty who develop and lead unique courses only available through TLDG Online.

Benefits to Your Organization

- Export the TLDG at West Point learning experience to cascade throughout your entire organization around the world

- Connect geographically dispersed teams through a collaborative and shared learning experience resulting in higher team performance and a common leadership language

- Expose leaders across your organization to premier faculty with proven leadership experience that provides opportunities for growth and development with minimal work disruption

- Garner insights on organizational or leadership perceptions based on assessments about participant learning needs, progress and course content

- Tailor content to organizational objectives through Cohort Champion interaction and engagement

- Access online communities and content for 1-year allowing continued engagement and ability to reinforce learnings and applications

Benefits to Participants

- Develop your leadership toolkit with real world applications via multi-media content including energizing narratives, videos, articles, and case studies

- Gain an expanded network of mentors & peers from different departments, managerial levels, and geographies to enable continued learning after course ends

- Gain access to course material conveniently anytime on your computer, tablet or mobile device

- Enhance your learning experience through engaging multimodal learnings, topical forums for discussion, and personal reflections

- Explore different leadership approaches and experiences through weekly Breakout Group meetings that offer intimate and impactful small group discussions

- Improve knowledge retention through layered course content and micro-learnings paced over a 3-week period optimizing opportunities for application, reflection, and recall

COURSES

TLDG Online delivers rich, multi-media content that facilitates collected learning through cohort based online communities. Our platform meets the needs of our clients allowing convenient, unrestricted access and overcoming geographical barriers.

Leadership: The First Person You Must Lead Is You

This course, developed by Brigadier General (retired) Rebecca "Becky" Halstead, is designed to introduce you to the concept of leadership and validate the leadership philosophy that a "better me is a better we." The course provides an exceptional opportunity for leaders at all organizational levels to closely examine your own leadership DNA and explore the personal principles that guide your decision making and, ultimately, effectiveness as a leader.

New courses coming soon!

"Leadership is a fusion of heart and mind.
Your heart – your character. Your mind - your logic."
~ Brigadier General (retired) Becky Halstead

RESULTS

TLDG Online delivers ground-breaking virtual learning with real-world results via a differentiated guided learning system:

95%

Of participants believe the lessons & skills learned are applicable to their jobs.

94%

Of participants thought the unique online learning platform enhanced their learning.

75%

Of platform participants* actively complete the program versus only 10% for other online platforms.

*Average based on CorpU platform

CLIENT TESTIMONIALS

Additional testimonials available upon request.

Mercedes-Benz

"The TLDG Online Leadership Program far exceeded my expectations! I was unsure of how effective an online leadership program could be, but was impressed with how interactive the program is and how well it was presented. The program is well designed to not only teach participants about the key tenets of leadership, but it keeps participants engaged through interaction with each other as well as with the TLDG staff." ~Mike McAbee, Department Manager Sales and Leadership Training, Mercedes-Benz USA

"At the start of the program, I was unsure... if our participants would be able to maintain their course work in addition to their day jobs and home life, but that concern was quickly diminished. I was impressed with...how well it was presented in small bites so that participants could maintain their homework assignments and activities. There was genuine excitement and responsiveness to the course material, which was designed for every type of leader. We were able to pull together 30 leaders from various locations within our organization to focus on their own development, which alone strengthened our team unit...We are looking forward to expanding to other leaders at Atlantic Broadband soon." ~Courtney Long, Vice President, Customer Care, Atlantic Broadband

"The TLDG Online program was extremely beneficial for our team. The program combined individual work, small team interactions and entire group sessions to create a truly blended learning environment. The opportunity to have an executive sponsor from the company was a key differentiator that set the program apart from most others. BG Becky Halstead's material is outstanding; her talks combined with the short videos and selected readings provide a comprehensive and powerful Leadership 101 training." ~John Haller, VP Global Supply, Stryker